

Ron Paul's Constitution & America's Constitution

Only three years after the United States won its independence, when there was no Jewish state for Muslims to resent, and no American troops on Muslim soil, Thomas Jefferson, then U.S. ambassador to France, and John Adams, then U.S. Ambassador to Britain, learned from a Muslim ambassador to Britain why the Muslims were so hostile towards Americans. Jefferson and Adams were attempting to negotiate a peace treaty with the Muslim "Barbary pirates," an exercise that ultimately proved to be futile. As Jefferson and Adams later reported to Congress, the Muslim ambassador explained to them that Islam was founded on the Laws of their Prophet, that it was written in their Koran, that all nations who should not have acknowledged their authority were sinners, that it was their right and duty to make war upon them wherever they could be found, and to make slaves of all they could take as Prisoners, and that every Musselman [Muslim] who should be slain in Battle was sure to go to Paradise.

All that Ron Paul needs to do is take a look at the Koran itself, cited by that Muslim ambassador more than 200 years ago, to understand the source of the jihadist ideology that we are still fighting today.

Ron Paul's Absurd 'Golden Rule'

By Joseph Klein

A few lessons from Thomas Jefferson and John Adams the congressman has apparently not encountered.

PREFACE by SULTAN: "The left (AGB adds: and Ron Paul) which have all the moral sense of a squashed peanut would like us to feel outraged because someone somewhere has been knocking off the engineers of death in a project whose goal is genocide."

AGB: Are YOU also outraged because we knocked off Usama bin Laden? No? Well, Ron Paul is.

Congressman Ron Paul showed in the January 17th Fox News debate why he would be so dangerous as president and commander-in-chief. He believes, in a twist on the Judeo-Christian Golden Rule, that our Islamist enemies are only assaulting us because we assaulted them first. Sorry, appeaser-in-chief Paul, but the Koran commands devout jihadists to use whatever means are necessary to destroy all infidels, no matter what we have done or plan to do to them. As part of an exchange involving the appropriate response to al Qaeda and their Taliban supporters, Paul exclaimed:

AGB: My point is, if another country does to us what we do others, we're not going to like it very much. So I would say that maybe we ought to consider a golden rule in — in foreign policy. Don't do to other nation... what we don't want to have them do to us.

Paul even offered the absurd analogy comparing our killing of the mass murderer Osama bin Laden on Pakistani soil, where he was provided a sanctuary, to the Communist Chinese government deciding to go after a Chinese dissident seeking freedom in the United States. Newt Gingrich properly labeled this comparison "utterly irrational."

Ron Paul may have some good ideas on reining in the power of the Federal Reserve and on the need to control federal spending. But he is clueless in dealing with our Islamist enemies. He either does not understand or refuses to believe the ideology that drives them. They want to kill us because our nation is governed on the basis of principles derived from Judeo-Christian beliefs including the true Golden Rule. They hate us because of who we are, not for any alleged harm that we've ever caused them.

Iranian Revolutionary Guards Quds Force Planning Attack on U.S. in Turkey - Bayram Kaya (Zaman-Turkey)

The Turkish Security General Directorate (EGM) has warned police departments in all 81 Turkish provinces that a team linked to Iran's Revolutionary Guards will be sent to Turkey and that it may be planning to bomb the U.S. embassy or consulate general in the country.

Groups linked to Hizbullah may also take part in the attacks.

A number of Iranian officials pledged revenge on Turkey following its decision to host a NATO early-warning radar system.
